35. Historical Background:

This building was erected in the 1950s on the former site of the Presbyterian Church. The Presbyterians were the first denomination to organize a church in Salida in 1880. In 1880 ex-Governor Hunt donated this site at the corner of F and 3rd to the church, and a frame building was erected the following year. In 1900 the frame building was replaced by a brick building which was said to add "to the architectural beauty" of Salida. This building was replaced by the current building in the 1950s. The building was originally a service station and later became a used car lot. A 1981 survey form indicated that this building housed Stallsworth Motor Co., a used car dealer. Floyd O. Stallsworth states that his company was only in this building for a few years.
