Salida and Chaffee County

In presenting this edition to our people we have a three-fold object in view: first it is our purpose to give a brief history of Chaffee county, leading up to the present time; second, to demonstrate how it is possible to maintain our growth and sustain our progress if we act together, or, if we so choose, destroy the same by dividing; third, to review the inducements here for the tourist, home and investment seeker.

From time immemorial it has been the nature of man to push out from, and establish himself without the confines of his first home. As it is natural for him to clamber ever onward and upward on the mountain side of knowledge, so also is it his nature to push out around him to see if the surrounding country holds anything of which he can make for himself something that will prove of material good.

It was a little over twenty-five years ago that the advance guard of civilization pushed through the Grand Canon of the Arkansas, now known as the Royal Gorge, and established themselves above the upper end of the canon. They no doubt suffered all the inconveniences, not to say hardships and privations that has always been the lot of the frontiersman or pioneer. The little town they founded and called Cleora, grew up and flourished for a time then sank into oblivion, as many another town has done, giving way to points more logical for the centralization of a community.

The principal cause of Cleora falling to decay was that the Denver & Rio Grande railroad people decided to make their terminus a time few were punished and these mostly by Judge Lynch.

May 28, 1880, marked the date of the press here. On that date the first issue of the Mountain Mail appeared. This paper was afterward merged into and still continues as the Salida Mail. The history of this paper has been closely identified with the growth and development of the community. Though always conservative it has ever fought for right and justice and stands ready at all times to place before the people the advantages and opportunities here for all classes.

The first bank draft was issued June 1, 1880, by the Chaffee County bank.

The population of the county in that year numbered 6,503 souls.

Along near this time it became necessary to choose a county seat. After a heated contest, in which many enmities were made, charge and countercharge of corruption and illegal voting, the victory was finally won by Buena Vista.

Among the pioneers who helped build up this community and who put forth every effort to develop and make of it a progressive district, the names of Otto Mears and Governor Hunt stand out, we believe, pre-eminently above all others.

And so the town and district grew and expanded. Poncha Hot Springs and the Monarch Mining district, of which we shall speak later, began to come to prominence. The element which first had the county in control gradually gave way to the law-abiding, peace-loving and progressive citizens.

As a consequence of Salida be-these concerns be patronized in preference to sending money to out of town establishments.

No benefit comes to the town from the outside merchants. Outside concerns pay nothing to the support of our schools, or the building of roads and bridges. Neither do they contribute to the maintenance of our state, county or municipal governments. On no page of their catalogue will etc., printed, when such work could be done at home. If we should make a practice of spending our money with out of town concerns where would be the inducements for the local merchants to establish themselves here? Where would the accumulation form for the building of public schools, free libraries, city halls, public parks, etc? How could we expect first class teachers for line and by supporting the local man we aid in building up the town, and thus help ourselves. Far too much money is sent outside the district, and we are very often "taken in." The local merchant dare not resort to shady practices. His reputation is at stake with every bill of goods he sells and he must therefore give full value for money spent with him?

by no means should be overlooked in this review, as it brings a substantial revenue each year.

We believe, however, the one thing if no other which will make this district great and will be the means of increasing the population and business interests here many fold, within the next few years, is the mining industry, which is being developed in the Garfield and Monarch districts, situated west by north of Salida.

For many years the people have not been awake to the wonderful possibilities in store for them in this mining district. A number of years ago the district flourished and the different mines gave up an abundance of rich silver ore. But when the slump in silver came the people gave up hope, as it were, and the district was allowed to run down. Recently, however, the more far seeing people have again taken hold of the different properties, all of whom have been already rewarded for their efforts. There is no question but that besides the abundance of silver and gold which exists in the district, there are also immense bodies of lead, zinc and copper and it is the last named mineral which is at present attracting so much attention to the district, which bids fair to soon be a rival of the largest and most important districts in the country.

By the fact that the capital already invested there has done so much in revealing "the wealth of the hills" to the world, certain it is that as soon as more men can be induced to take an interest in the district, greater things will be accomplished.

It is understood on good au-purest atmosphere of which anyone might imagine, and although we have 360 days of sunshine in a year, never are the summers too hot or the winters too cold but that they are conducive to good health. The surrounding country abounds in magnificent mountain scenery. Good fishing points and hunting grounds are accessible within a radius of a few miles. There are, too, throughout the county, numerous mineral springs, both hot and cold, whose recuperative powers have long been recognized by the medical world.

In Salida, the centralized point of the county, we also have excellent schools and bank accommodations, light and water systems, fine residence and business blocks, good hotels, progressive business houses and excellent telephone and telegraph facilities. We have in fact, within our borders, everything pertaining to the health, comfort, happiness and prosperity of our people, and the stranger is always welcome.

Activity in Turret District.

There is probably no section of the West that is receiving more favorable attention from the outside world than Turret. This interest that is thus manifested is in very small part the result of newspaper talk or advertising of any kind, but principally and fundamentally of merit. Both prospectors and capitalists have been attracted to Turret district by its excellent mineral showing. It is through those who have become interested in its mineral resources that it has chiefly been advertised. But while such ad-you find their offer to extend credit to you when through illness or misfortune you are unable to pay cash for your groceries, clothing, etc. Did they ever offer to provide means for your Fourth of July or any other entertainment? Will they do anything to provide a market for what you have to sell, and thereby keep up the value of your estate?

our children, doctors for our household, preachers for our churches, or any professional man or woman to remain in our midst? It would only be natural for them to go to larger cities where the money is going, and which is, by the way, your money. By sending your money to the city you not only enrich the plutocrat's purse but at the same time you

Money disbursed in a community remains in local circulation. It pays rents, clerk hire, taxes, fuel, light, etc., while the surplus goes into buildings and improvements. They, in turn, serve to increase the wealth of the city and county. The picture we have just painted could not, of course, apply to Salida in the extreme, else we would not have here the prosper-little further up the river, where a junction point was formed between the two branches of road they were building; one leading over Marshall Pass to Grand Junction, the other over the mountains to Leadville.

At this junction point a town sprung up, shortly after Cleora had attained considerable growth, and was known as South Arkansas. This name was retained by the town until June 24, 1880, when Governor Hunt gave it the name of Salida.

The history of the pioneer days of Salida is about the same as of any other western town. Business houses sprung into being in almost a single night. Saloons, boarding houses, banks, etc., started up by magic, as it were, and all were housed in wooden shacks, or, in many instances, tents were pressed into service. As is almost always the case the town was at first controlled and overridden by an element of tin horns and toughs. Enforcement of the law was weak; domination of crime was strong. Street fights were of frequent occurrence, saloon brawls were numerous, in many of which a number of people were killed. Those killed were not always confined to the participants, but in many instances innocent bystanders were included as well. For a ing built up entirely of frame buildings two great fires were visited upon the town, the last one being in January, 1888. These catastrophes, however, were blessings in disguise, for the town was immediately rebuilt in a much more metropolitan and substantial manner.

The Rio Grande shops and round houses were also at one time destroyed by fire and they, too, when rebuilt, were not only much better in construction but were also enlarged.

And now we have given a brief history of our town and county, leading up to the present, which is so prosperous and the future so promising. Let us say a word which we believe is not out of place here in regards to maintaining our prosperity and sustaining our growth. To give the reader an idea as to the present prosperous condition of affairs in our community, we have included in this issue write-ups of our business houses, banks, important mining companies, leading industries and professional men and women throughout the district. We are glad to avail ourselves of this opportunity to bring our business houses before our readers. We have included representatives of practically all lines of industry in the county and we urge that are giving him social and professional advantages over yourself and your family by driving these advantages to his city when you send him your money.

In short, will they do anything for social, school or government support, or do they take your dollars out of the community with no return except the goods you buy?

ous, progressive town we have to doubt. There is no question of a doubt but that the resources of Salida and the surrounding country have, as yet, barely been opened up. Being situated as it is at the junction point of four branches of the Denver & Rio authority that there are several Eastern companies who have of late been investigating the district with a view of investing, and as in each instance it is said that the experts sent out have been highly elated with the prospects in view, many important changes will no doubt be seen before the snow flies.

Garfield and Monarch are so situated as to be excellent places for the building of towns, and of late greater activities have been witnessed at both places than have been known for many years.

In either Garfield or Monarch there are openings for almost every class of business and we believe that above all other things needed is a first class hotel.

We feel that we are within the mark in predicting that these camps will be the means of developing this into a vast mining center within a short space of time, and while the various mining properties, noted in other parts of this paper, will no doubt always maintain a leading position among those that rank as the best in the district, ere long they will be competing against hundreds of others that are as yet unknown.

In closing we feel that we should dwell upon the virtues of the climate and other advantageous features of this section, taken as a whole. We are blessed in having the vertising may not be so widely circulated as the sayings of great newspapers, yet it is far more reliable. It represents the conviction and the judgment of those who will invest their money in the development of natural resources and the building of great and profitable enterprises.

The persistency with which both prospectors and capitalists hold their interest in Turret is an evidence of faith which can rest only on merit. It is this faith that is having to-day marked influence upon the condition of Turret as a mining camp. There is steadily increasing activity. Properties that have worked continuously are pushing their work with greater vigor and brighter prospects than ever before. Of the properties that have been idle for several months, several have become active and others will become active as soon as the question of suitable treatment has been determined. Of this last class the Independence is a prominent example. Its ore is a copper sulphide and that it can be profitably treated has already been determined. The only question now is which treatment is best. As soon as that is settled a plant will be installed.

BALLOT BOXES IN COURT.

Nearly every resident of Colorado is already well informed as to the result of the last election in Denver—How that result was attained and how the corporations have since blocked every avenue for the exposure of certain deals made both during and since the election.

The Colorado supreme court has from the first been considered in line with the corporations, but when the final and most serious clash came on Tuesday when Judge Lindsey detailed a delegation to go forth and bring into his court certain ballot boxes which were known to contain fraudulent ballots and this delegation was met with armed forces, the court was again appealed to and Judge Bailey of that judicial body, has chosen to rule in favor of the people.

The ballot boxes will now be made to tell their story in court and it is universally conceded that that story will undo the wrongs that have been worked upon an unsuspecting public by Denver corporations which have always aimed to rule by some means—either fair or foul.

And now, since Judge Bailey's refusal to grant a writ of supersedens in the case at issue, Judge Lindsey enters formal orders adjudging in contempt several persons who were in the service of the corporations both before, during and since the election. Among these are George N. Ordway, Fred A. Williams, Henry L. Doherty and John Cook, Jr. Fines of $500 were imposed on each and the order was made committing them to the common jail of the county until said fines are paid.

Theodore Griffin and William Laille; ballot box guards appointed by the election commission, were fined $25 for contempt, which fines were paid by Attorney Thomas Ward.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning Sheriff Nisbet with two deputies repaired to the Wilson warehouse and without opposition took possession of the boxes used in Ward 14, Precinct 3. The corporations decided during the night to abandon resistance to Judge Lindsey's order. At 11 o'clock Judge Lindsey made out commitment orders and the quartet were taken to the county jail.

The work of investigating the contents of the ballot boxes will proceed summarily, unless restraining orders are issued by the supreme court.

The orders of the county court, as indicated by Judge Lindsey's attitude will be enforced vigorously.

The big insurance companies refusing to pay losses in the San Francisco disaster are getting all the undesirable advertising they need these days. Lists of the companies paying in full, those paying percentages of the loss and those on the black list—that is those who refuse to pay at all—are given first page spaces in a great many of the big daily newspapers. What will this mean to the companies? Why it will simply mean that those on the black list will soon be as much out of business as were the big mercantile institutions to suffer by quake and fire in the big coast city only a few months ago.

Col. David Day, the veteran editor of the Durango Democrat, quotes the Hon. Chas. S. Thomas as saying that if the senatorship of Colorado is for sale, it may as well be sold to Guggenheim as to any other who has the price and disposition. And no one will undertake to dispute the opinion of Mr. Thomas if this matter of the senatorship is an absolutely republican commodity. Guggenheim would doubtless be as reasonable to deal with as would most any other member of his party.

The Mail is issued today in two sections, each of which contains four pages or twenty-eight columns of live local and general news, and this includes a brief review of Salida and Chaffee county industries, such information as could be accurately gained in the short space of time devoted to the production of this number. There will also be found in this issue reviews of the various mercantile and other enterprises conducted by the men who have made Salida and Chaffee county what they are today, one of the best and most prosperous sections of the entire state.

Denver Stock Market.

DENVER UNION STOCK YARDS, Aug. 6—Receipts of cattle here last week were fairly liberal but only a few of them were choice and trade was dull on common stuff. Good beef steers were steady with free-feeding week and in strong demand. Some fancy cornfeds from eastern Colorado were delivered here at $5 50 the high price here this year. Choice North Park steers brought $4.75, the high price for grass steers last week, but they were of good quality and most of the fair to good kinds sold at $4.00 to $4.25, or about 20% lower than a week ago. The cows were plentiful but most of them of the half-fat grassy kind for which the demand from packers is light. Some choice North Park cows brought $3.40, but most of the grass stuff went at $2.15 to $2.90 and slow at that. Packers still complain that the grass cows are killing out badly and unless they are fat the demand is light. Good cows are called pretty close to steady with a week ago but all others from 15c to 25c lower. Bulls and veals weak, but little change in quotations from last week.

port. There is considerable inquiry developing for heavy dehorned feeders of good flesh, but few here and very little trading was done last week. Bulk of the stuff offered was of the light stocker order and trade on this class of steers is slow. Good selected feeders are about steady with a week ago but common kinds are fully a quarter lower and in extreme cases the decline amounts to even more than this. Indications are of an excellent trade in good feeding steers on this market in the near future.

The model kitchen, which was such a popular feature of the State fair last year, will be improved upon this year, when the new up-to-date methods of kitchen furniture and cooking will be shown.
Charles G. Patrick is expected in today from Goldfield, Nevada, where he is in charge of both the lighting and water plants for the Montezuma Water Co. of Denver and Goldfield. Extensive construction work has been under way in Nevada for some months past and Mr. Patrick has had quite enough to keep him occupied directing operations. He will visit with his wife and baby in Salida for a week or so and then go on to Denver to confer with officers of the company.

James Moore and wife and Miss McCune, who has been their guest in this city for two or three weeks past, will leave the fore part of next week for Fort Collins where they will visit the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Moore for a few days and then proceed to some favored point on the Cache la Poudre river for a two weeks' outing. There's no better place in the west for fishing and camping than on the Poudre and this little party of Salidans are anticipating much pleasure ere their return to this city.
Picnic parties at Wellsville wishing to use the lunch room for the purpose of serving their own lunches will be expected to pay for the privilege. The little pavilion and large tent on the hill are free to the public for this purpose.
V. C. DAYENPORT, Prop.

Last Saturday afternoon a colored gentleman of Salida, after imbibing a quantity of Salida booze, climbed aboard No. 1 and came to Buena Vista. A reception committee composed of City Marshals Frame and Randal met him upon his arrival and escorted him to the city jail. At about 7:30 o'clock he succeeded in setting fire to the bed clothes in the calaboose and came near being a smoked Ham. The fire company soon had the fire extinguished and Sunday morning he was turned loose and told to "skidoo."—Buena Vista Republican
A notable party of eastern capitalists arrived in the city last night and are out to inspect Taylor Mountain Mining company's mines with Supt. Furmott. All are interested in the company to a more or less extent while several are directors. The party comprises the following persons: W. F. Norway, of Chipeway Falls, Wisconsin, vice president of the company; Robert B. Clark of the same city, a director; Jerry Palmer, W. H. Bailey and Dayton E. Cook, also of the Wisconsin city; R. B. Stevenson, of the Omaha smelter; W. C. Bailey, of Peru, Indiana

The Misses Minnie and Myrtle Cope and their friend, Miss Ford of Denver, are having a royal good time camping out near the Poncha hot springs. They were joined there by the parents of the two first mentioned, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cope, of the St. Clair hotel on Wednesday and all participated in a sort of impromptu celebration of the twenty third anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cope's wedding. It was one of those delightful outdoor doings which was heartily enjoyed by all present. The ceremony uniting Mr. and Mrs. Cope was celebrated in the old Presbyterian church in this city when Salida was but a mere village. Both then resided at or near Mosarcb.
Kempton Comedy Kompany comes to the opera house next week, August 18. Opening bill, "Men's Enemy." One lady free with each 35c seat bought before 7 p. m. Saturday. Kempton is a great favorite in Salida and has always played to big business when here. Advance sale is now on at opera house box office and seats are going rapidly, so come early. Prices 15, 25 and 35 cents. Grand prize to be given away Saturday evening. Don't fail to see Kempton Comedy Kompany.
Last Tuesday night the Misses Katie and Lillian Wright were initiated into the mysteries of the Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 10. There were sixty members present and as usual after the lodge was closed refreshments were served. On this occasion the punch bowl was brought out and presided over by Mrs. Blanch Wilson and Mrs. Charles Erdles assisted by William Truscott. Everybody present was served with punch and water. It was surprising to see how exceedingly dry they all seemed to be. With the merry clink of glasses, and social chatter all appeared to be having a splendid time and it was not till near midnight that the lights were blown out and everybody took their departure, well pleased with the evenings' entertainment.

In Hymen's Realm.
Mr. Clarence W. Knapp and Miss Katherine M. Schorr, both of this city, were united in marriage in the Catholic parsonage, at about 8:30 last Monday evening, Rev. Father Deatcher officiating. The ceremony was a very quiet one. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams being the only ones present.
The bride came to this city about four years ago from her home at St. Joseph and during this time was in the employ of both the Crews Beggs Mercantile company and of the Ramsey Dry Goods company. She only resigned the latter position last Saturday night after completing her clerical duties for the week.
The groom is an energetic young fellow and has been in the service of the Rio Grande company in this city for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Knapp expect to leave either today or tomorrow for Spokane, where they will take up a permanent residence.

RESOLVED THAT WE MIGHT AS WELL KEEP COOL! BUSTER BROWN

NOT ONLY MIGHT WE AS WELL KEEP OUR BODIES COOL, BUT ALSO OUR HEADS COOL WHEN WE GO TO BUY THINGS TO WEAR. IS IT NOT WELL DURING THESE "FAKING" DAYS OF COMMERCE TO DEAL DURING THE "REDUCTION TIMES" WITH THE STORE THAT TRIES TO DO THE SQUARE THING THE YEAR ROUND? REMEMBER IF YOU GET BIT ON A SUIT OR OTHER THINGS TO WEAR THAT YOU MUST STAY BIT UNTIL YOU WEAR OUT THE CLOTHES YOU GOT—OR, GIVE THEM AWAY. EITHER IS EXPENSIVE. IS IT NOT EVEN BETTER TO GIVE AWAY SNIDE CLOTHES THAN TO WEAR THEM? GOOD CLOTHES MAKE THAT SUCCESSFUL FEELING. LEGITIMATE STORES, THOUGH, AT THIS TIME OF THE YEAR MAKE LEGITIMATE REDUCTIONS IN PRICES OF SUMMER STUFF. WE HAV'N'T A GREAT MANY LIGHT WEIGHTS IN CLOTHES AND FURNISHINGS FOR YOUR BODY LEFT SO WE CAN YEARLY LET THESE SLIDE CHEAPLY.

RESPECTFULLY,
BEN DISMAN, ON THE CORNER.
