Mt. Princeton Byrd Colonies

"The Frontier to You".
BUENA VISTA COLORADO

FORMAL OPENING 1924-25

☐ MT. PRINCETON BYRD COLONIES, the most unique recreational project in existence (now under construction), will offer to the nature-lover and outing-seeker unlimited scope for relaxation from worldly activities or social demands.

☐ The Colonies are situated in the heart of Mt. Princeton (higher than Pike's Peak) of the Collegiate Peaks, and are eight miles from Buena Vista (through the Royal Gorge on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad). For motorists, the turn west to COLONIES is between Leadville and Salida on the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway.

☐ The BYRD COLONIES will be composed of three units; RADIO SPRING BYRD BATHS, the ALPINE LODGE FOR BOYS, and the TIN CUP DUDE RANCH. Each unit is separate, some distance intervening but easily accessible, the whole covering a grand ensemble of panoramic beauty, but so arranged and merged that a delightful season may be enjoyed.

☐ The appointment of the BYRD COLONIES will be of the best and will hold accurately and strictly to the lore, tradition and custom of the Great West. Comfort and refinement will be maintained without sacrificing locals. It is the place for that discerning man or woman who has tried "the others" and found them wanting.

THE BYRD COLONIES will be under the direct supervision of BYRD its creator, assisted by native-born mountainfolk and frontiersmen, while Mark Love, the noted big game hunter and guide of the Rockies, the South American mountains and the Alaskan fields, will greet the guest as chief guide.

The Radio Spring Baths

Consist of four main Lodges, round-up corral, chapel, and many individual log cabins, each carrying the name and color of a mountain bird, and built entirely by mountain men after the fashion of 1870. They are arranged in a picturesque manner in the shadows of the Radio Cliffs, the unmatched phenomena of the Collegiate Peaks. They are quaintly furnished without losing comfort or any of that true frontier atmosphere which has been revived for the enjoyment of today. One of the many features of the BYRD BATHS is the RADIO hot water plunge and the RADIO drinking water. This Radio active water finds its source on the BYRD properties, and has been adjudged by the Colorado Geological Survey Bulletin II, one of the most potent of its kind accessible to humanity, and its phenomenal for its curative properties. It bubbles at the mother spring at a temperature of 187 deg. Fh. and is the hottest spring in Colorado.

The Alpine Lodge for Boys

One mile up the gulch from BYRD BATHS is an unusual retreat for youths. High in the mountains, superior water, government trails, instructive research work in gold, silver, zinc and copper mines. Fishing at Grizzly Lake. Hunting and hiking in Chalk Creek Gulch and over the Continental Divide, home-cooked food and bathing in Radio Hot Springs are among the offerings for the up-building of the growing youngster. A vacation with a purpose. An opportunity for the development of your boy, mentally, physically and morally. The rounding out of his character, giving him a broad universal foundation upon which to build his manhood. Living in his own LOG CACHE, having his own pack horse, under the supervision of those who have the American Boys' interest at heart and who have studied the art of instructive vacational work.

Tin Cup Dude Ranch

Will be the Utopia for "dudes" who are looking for the last word in recreational opportunities. Magnificent scenery, big game hunting, rainbow trout fishing and other pastimes go to make an outing to be remembered far into one's life.

Formal openings will be for the seasons of 1924-1925. Executive offices of the MT. PRINCETON BYRD COLONIES, Suite 427, Hotel Chase, St. Louis, Missouri, or Buena Vista, Colorado. Write for further detailed information, or personal interviews may be arranged.

"We reserve the right to select our guests"

LEADVILLE.

County seat of Lake county, on the D. & R. G. W. Ry., also terminus of the Leadville division of the C. & S. Ry., 172 miles southwest from Denver. Leadville has been quite properly named the "Carbonate City." She yielded in silver from date of the first discoveries until 1893 an average of a million dollars per month. It was believed by many that the slump in silver would ruin Leadville, but her enterprising miners and citizens went to work with a will and made her a gold camp instead of silver. Leadville has a steady output of gold and silver second only to that of Cripple Creek, and of lead, zinc and copper, and discoveries are being made of new mines of all kinds. The future prospects are as good for the camp today as at any time since the first discoveries were made. Population 4,959. Altitude 10,200 feet.

Salida is the natural center of commerce for a vast tract of territory, representing varied resources in the southwestern portion of Colorado. It is the converging point of the standard and narrow gauge systems of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad. Salida is one of the prettiest and best built towns in Colorado, her hotels commodious, her schools are of the best, her six churches add to her social benefits. A new rest room and information bureau have been installed here, for the use of the public in general. Her railroad shops and employees make a pay roll of $110,000 a month, and above all, her climate is unequalled, 350 days of sunshine are not found in any other town or city. Never very cold, never very hot. Altitude 7,050 feet. Population (1920 Census) 4,689.
