SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

It was the year of 1959. Colorado, as well as many other states was sponsoring a Special Zephyr train to New York City where the greatest football game of the century was to be played. Russia was to play the United States. Chalmers Porter was coach of the Cossack's team, otherwise known as the famous hillbillies, while Bob Scudder was coaching for the United States.

It seemed that Chalmers took Cassie Beck, Lengthy Cribari, Slick Haley, and Jimmie Jay with him when he decided to give Uncle Sam a wee bit of competition from Russia.

Bob Scudder, the modern Tarzan as he was called, had a marvelous team. His center was a little man with bright neck ties, Harold A. White. Others in the line-up whose names attracted our attention were Earle Taylor, Volney Perry, Shorty McClure, and Pat (alias Patricia Sneddon).

To go on with the story of the trip, we were all settled as the train pulled out. After watching the scenery for awhile, we tired of it and went out on the observation car where we found Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bovee (Mrs. Bovee formerly was Miss Doris Graham). They were playing viaduct, the latest game out, based on the principles of bridge, however slightly easier to get over. We were glad to see Blanche Ollie as we had not heard from her since she flunked out at Columbia U.

From one corner of the observation platform, we heard this conversation: "Yes, I am going to stay over to see the Opera. Madge Peairs is singing the leading role in "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em." From the other person came this: "I'd like to see the Opera too, for Madge was always a good friend of mine, but really, Kay, we must go to the new night club on 42nd Street where Katharine Darby is doing a feature dance with Roger Aude as her sparring partner."

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Yes, this last was from Bob Alexander, doesn't it sound like him? "You shall do as I say or else!!" But the rest of Kathryn Nease's speech was lost in shrieks of laughter from within the train.

We naturally hurried to see what caused so much merriment. When we reached the scene we found Robert Truscott dancing the Highland Fling on a table in the bar room car with Faye Tuttle furnishing rhythm on her sax. And was she hot! We saw Earl Fryrear acting as water-boy for both of them.

By this time we had arrived in Kansas City and more passengers were getting on.

We always enjoyed mixing through a new crowd to pick out our acquaintances. We soon discovered two of our old classmates, Rosa DeGrazio and her new husband Guy Muto. Yes, they were on their honeymoon but as Rosa expressed it. "For Heavens sakes, don't tell any one!" Don't worry we didn't need to.

Coming down the aisle was a man dressed immaculately. Someone bumped into him and we heard him exclaim, "Oh, Gracious, such vulgar people." We were more than shocked when, as he drew nearer, we found him to be no other than Jack Paquette, our old Spartan.

Who should the fellow behind him be but David Corlett. "Well, well, Dave, where have you been?" "I am now managing the Ladies Ready-to-wear Department in the Belle Fashion Store in Hollywood." Our conversation was interrupted by John Wilson, who was weaving his way along the train. It was evident he had heard David's remark for as he passes us he mumbled, "Why men go insane."

We turned back but Dave was gone.

We went into the next car and found a moving picture on the screen. We quietly sat down to enjoy a few moments rest. The picture for the evening was progressing and to our surprise the first face to appear was that of Iris McCall. She was leading lady in a thrilling love story opposite George Muto, our present Rudolph Valentino.

An amusing comedy was also shown which brought back old faces and memories. The scene of the comedy seemed to take place in a little village of Iceburg. Here we found Ray Hockett promptly besieged by practically every Eskimo girl in town. The minute he stepped out of his "Igloo" four of these demonstrative maidens namely: Mildred Smyth, Dorothy Subry, Mary Walker, and Lois Alway, would rush up, throw their arms about him and cry "Voomie" (darling in English)—I must admit he enjoyed it—until!!! Good for Ray providing he can take it. But we often wonder.

Immediately following, the news flashes of the day showed to us only a glimpse of the "Bad boys and girls of the Movies." The first familiar face was that of Iyone McDonald, oh won't she ever grow up? And there's Maxine Sneddon, Iyone's old side kick, trying to induce her never to do it again.

As for the boys we could expect exactly what we heard. Behind a curtain in the studio came these voices: "Frank Ronald," "Hub?" "Willard," "What!" "Moritz Kerndt," "Beg your pardon?" "William Lewis," "I do not comprehend the nature of your interrogation." We thought they might have been trying to imitate the Mills Brothers, or possibly the Eaton Boys, however, we were not given time to figure it all out before the news reel was flashed off.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

We then went into the drawing room and turning on the television set, to our amazement we saw a parade in Honolulu, all of the dusky maidens were doing the "Hula Hula" dance. To our surprise—Elva Wagner was in front directing. I asked the friend next to me why she was there and was informed that she, being the greatest dancing director in the U. S., and having once directed a dancing section of the Senior Class, was now improving the Hawaiians dancing. We soon found we knew several others in the parade. Edith Nelson was being carried by on two white elephants. (She had gone there for a visit and as the Hawaiians worship people with auburn (???) hair they had adopted her for their queen.)

At the end of the parade we saw Ed McKenna, or "Eddie Pat" as he was called. Edith had made him "head manager of all financial matters, foreign and interior, as well as on the sea-coast." So they had matters fairly well in hand.

The next program of importance was a speech by our new President, Virgil Cowen. He thanked the people for electing him and gave the first public announcement of the members of his cabinet: Ray Schneider, Secretary of War, Mary Burgess, Secretary of the Interior, Stella McMullen, Secretary of Agriculture, and Virginia Siring, Secretary of Labor. Virgil had bigger and better ideas—and women in politics or any where else, was one of them.

Turning off the set we looked around to see if anyone new had arrived and saw most of the people leaving. Following them, we found there was a fifty minute stop-over at Niagara Falls. On the platform we found the "Hi Diddle Diddle" orchestra out to greet the train. The orchestra leader looked familiar. Yes, it was Clayton Honeywell. There was Bobbie Ferraro with his flute, Frank Mazzotta at the piano, We had to look twice to see who they were. Well! I'll be - - - !! if it wasn't Alice L. Gorman, Frances Hunt, and Berniece Pringle, beautiful voices and can you imagine that—platinum hair? And on all three! Well! it looks like a put up job.

We passed the orchestra and went into a lunchroom for a bite of food. The waitress, Harriett Anderson, greeted us with her usual smile and told us they had the best cook to be found anywhere, Buddy Law. He could cook anything from soup to nuts—so she said. Of course we didn't care much about that variety so ordered the "Heller Special Luncheon," which was first originated by our old friend Burton.

Others at the lunch counter were Catherine Alway with Paul Martin, it was rumored that anything might be expected from this pair.

The train whistle called us back to our car. We sat down beside Maxine McClure and Dizzy Wilson, who were engaged in a friendly argument over women in aviation. This soon turned into practically a fight. Before we were aware of it our train had reached New York.

We found Manuel Olguin and Carl Pasquale, high officials of New York City, greeting the train.

After saying hello, everyone hastened to his own group of friends and soon the platform was vacant.

The Salida Spartans Champions of Colorado

FOOTBALL

In 1934 the Spartans had a very successful football season. By virtue of winning every game, they brought back the state crown for the second time and a banner for first place in the conference for the third consecutive year. The Spartan record for 1934:

ACTIVITIES

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The following people were elected to the National Honor Society this year:

- Seniors: Robert Truscott
- Virgil Cowen
- Virginia Siring
- James Jay
- Mary Burgess
- Berniece Pringle
- Blanche Ollie Young (Previously elected)
- Junior: Gertrude Guyton

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club was first organized in 1931 under the direction of Miss Ethelalice Scott, but this year it was started on a new plan of a permanent group of eleven members. By this plan the graduating Seniors are replaced by Sophomores. Freshman will not be eligible after this year, and the members must be in the upper fourth of their class in scholarship. The members do most of the desk work, keep the books in order, and meet once a week for instruction in library service. At this meeting they are taught the proper care of books, classification, cataloging, and library methods. Each day some member of the club is at the desk before and after school, and during every period. The library for its size, has a fine reference department, and one of the chief aims of the club is to make the library more accessible for the students.

ACTIVITIES

DEBATE CLUB

Late in November, the debate club started work with Frank Massard as President, Franklin Ragan as Secretary, and Mr. Soles, sponsor. Other members of the club were Isabelle Davenport, and Thomas Preecs. The state subject selected for debate was "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunities by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education." Frank Massard and Franklin Ragan upheld the affirmative of the question; Isabelle Davenport and Thomas Preecs, the negative.

Our negative team met the Leadville affirmative team here February 9. Attorney W. S. Rush acted as judge. Leadville received the decision. The return debate was held in Leadville February 16. Several other debates were scheduled with Florence and our local Public Speaking Class.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Last year the Glee Club entered the music contest in Alamosa and received a rating of excellent. Money was raised to enter the contest this year from the returns of the operetta "Hansel and Gretel," sponsored by the Glee Club and from various candy sales.

There was a great increase in membership this year as the number has been almost doubled.

A Christmas Carol Service was held at the Methodist Church December 19, 1934, consisting of numbers from the Junior High Boys and Junior High Girls Glee Club, High School Glee Club and a few grade school children.

"Hansel and Gretel," staged in the High School auditorium February 15, was adapted from the operetta of E. Humperdinck.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Mobeck has met each Tuesday and Thursday during the school year. The organization numbered fourteen pieces. Franklin Ragan was student director. The orchestra played several numbers before the junior play.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

Baccalaureate services for the Class of 1935 are to be held Sunday evening, May 19 in the high school auditorium. The Rev. George Oakes will deliver the sermon assisted by other local ministers. The senior class, as is the usual custom, will attend in a body.

ACTIVITIES

BETA PHI

The Beta Phi Literary Society was organized in the year 1923 by the Junior and Senior girls of Salida High School for the purpose of developing the artistic abilities of the girls. This organization has gone on from year to year, made up of the Junior and Senior girls of the School under the leadership of Miss Mosgrove.

This year, the officers of the club are as follows:

President.....IRIS MCCALL
Vice President.....BLANCHE OLLIE YOUNG
Secretary.....KATHARINE DARBY
Treasurer.....EDITH NELSON

Fourteen girls from the Junior Class were taken into the organization at the beginning of the year, and these, with the five Senior girls who belonged last year, make an enrollment of nineteen members.

During the year the girls gave a tea for the new members and a Washington's Birthday assembly.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves began the year with a 100 per cent active membership.

Some of the program themes were: The Girl and Her Family, Church and Community.

At the Christmas Holidays the girls went to different places and sang Christmas Carols.

Soon after this the club enjoyed a party with the Hi Y.

January 16 the girls enjoyed a tea.

April 17 there was special music and a play review given for the girls.

May 11 the annual Mother-Daughter Tea was held at which time the new officers were installed.

The officers for the past year have been: President, Katharine Darby, Vice President, Program Chairman, Harriett Anderson; Secretary, Mildred Beauregard; Treasurer, Louise Curfman; Musician, Lillian Vaughn. The Girl Reserve Club is sponsored by Miss Skinner.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to create more interest in commercial work. The club was organized this year with the following officers:

President.....VIRGINIA SIRING
Vice President.....STELLA McMULLEN
Secretary.....IYONE McDONALD
Treasurer.....MAXINE SNEDDON
Reporter.....CATHERINE ALWAY

This year for the first time, sophomores have been allowed to join. During the year, the club has enjoyed several theatre parties, a Christmas party, and a picnic. Among other things this year, the club has published a paper, "The Commercial News."

ACTIVITIES

THE SALIDA HIGH SCHOOL DRAMATIC CLUB

The High School Dramatic Club was reorganized this year under the sponsorship of Miss Wilma Scott. New members for the club were selected by means of "Try-Outs." There are seventeen members in the club.

The officers are:

President.....ROGER AUDE
Vice President.....MARCELLINE BULLARD
Secretary.....BLANCHE OLLIE YOUNG
Treasurer.....JUSTINE KELLER
Historian.....FRANCES HUNT

The club presented a one-act play "Neighbours" by Zona Gale in assembly March 8, which was a serious comedy. During the year, the club studied stage sets and furniture arrangement.

SALIDA HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The organization of a Salida High School band was started in 1928 by Mr. Bakke and Mr. Winters. Mr. Long was the next director and after he left, the band was in charge of Mr. Njaa for a short time after which Mr. Mobeck, then leader of the municipal band, was named as director.

The band has grown from a small organization to the present size of nearly fifty pieces. Originally the band was separated into a beginners' and an advanced band but the groups were combined some time ago.

In 1932 a band boosters association was organized to assist the young musicians. Purple and white emblems were bought and near the close of last year, a party was held for the band members by the boosters club. The organization makes possible the trips each year to the valley music contests.

Last year the band entered the San Luis Valley music contest and won a rating of excellent. The band also entered the contest again this year in Alamosa.

Harriett Anderson has been drum major and Franklin Ragan student director this year.

THE SPARTANITES

The Spartanite Club, organized for the promotion of pep and school spirit, has grown from a membership of seventy-five to two hundred-fifty. The club met in September and elected their president, Theodore Benjovsky, with Miss Woodward acting as sponsor. A membership into the club was one dollar, which included membership to the club and admission to all the conference games played at home. The Spartanites put on various exhibitions at the halves of the football and basketball games. The exhibitions were novel and showed hard work on the part of the club. The organization has succeeded in arousing interest in high school athletics as well as better attendance at the games.

ACTIVITIES

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS CHORUS

A junior high girls chorus was formed this year. It meets on Tuesday, the fourth period. This chorus helped with the Christmas carol concert. From this chorus were chosen the chief characters in "Hansel and Gretel" and most of the voices for the chorus. They sang for the Chaffee County teachers meeting on February 2.

RANGERS CLUB

The junior high boys who were interested in cowboy music formed a Rangers Club which meets on Thursday, the fourth period. At this time they sing their favorite popular cowboy songs. Luis Sandoval plays his guitar and other boys play harmonicas and jews harps.

Commencement Exercises for the Class of 1935

Commencement exercises for the Senior Class of 1935 will take the form of an historical pageant in which the history of Salida and Chaffee county will be reviewed. Nearly every child in the Salida schools will take part in the affair which will culminate in the presentation of the Class of 1935 and the awarding of diplomas to them.

The first episode will be presented by Longfellow pupils who will give dances to represent the sky, the sun, the flowers, the wind and other parts of the natural environment of Salida.

The second episode is called the coming of man and will show in pageant form the coming of the Red man, the Spanish priests, the French trappers, Captain Anza and his party, Zebulon Pike and his party, Kit Carson, Captain Gunnison, a Mormon party and other similar groups. An interesting part of this episode will show the rivalry between the D. and R. G. W. railroad and the Santa Fe for possession of the Royal Gorge route to this territory.

The third episode will include a miner drill, a cattleman drill, a railroad drill, and drills to represent fruits, vegetables, and dairy products.

For the final part of the program, Blanche Ollie Young will give a brief summary of the pageant after which Robert Truscott will give a brief view toward the future, pointing out some of the problems ahead of this section of Colorado. Superintendent Hightower then will present the class after which Dr. Larimer will present the diplomas which will be accepted in a short talk by Ray Hockett, senior class president. Principal Barrett will lead the pupils in the Athenian oath for the final number.

THE STORY OF THE UPPER ARKANSAS VALLEY

The purpose of this pageant is to bring more clearly to our minds the past history of this valley, that we may renew our courage and profit by the examples of those who have gone before.

Progress

If Edison, Bell, Marconi, and Franklin had not tinkered and experimented during their school days, we might never have had the radio, the electric light or the telephone.

Who knows but that some day we may be entertained with a program by television given in a home that is perfectly air-conditioned and lighted as a result of experimenting now being done by someone attending the Salida school?
