

WORKMEN WERE GETTING READY Wednesday to dismantle the old Denver & Rio Grande Railroad bridge across the Arkansas River in Salida. Ties were being removed and other preparations made prior to the arrival of an Avery Structures Inc. crane which is scheduled to remove the bridge this morning. A workman at the site Wednesday said the bridge would be cut in five foot sections and then scrapped.